POMERONY, O., January 11.—(By the Associated Press.)—Reports reaching here today are to the effect that the families of more than 200 miners are destitute and facing starvation in the Dark Hollow district at Forest Run, a mining town near here. The distress is attributed, according to reports, to the lack of work in the coal mines, which have been shut down for some time.

Male Vamps Must Be Arrested

YOUNGSTOWN, O., January 11.—(By the Associated Press.)—Mayor George L. Quesada today ordered the arrest of all "male vamps" whom he defined as "well-dressed men with big automobiles standing along the curb." The following order was sent by the mayor to Safety Director Hamilton: "I want you to notify Jim Watkins (police chief) that male vamps must discontinue operations. I want them locked up and given the full extent of the law. This includes well-dressed men with big automobiles standing along the curb, also at the end of Market street bridge, asking young girls and women to take a ride with them. This also includes the male vamps standing at the corner making insulting remarks as the ladies pass by."

VAN WERT, O., January 11.—(By the Associated Press.)—Four more victims of the crossing disaster here yesterday when a school bus was struck by a fast Pennsylvania freight train are not expected to live, according to attending physicians this morning. They are in the Van Wert county hospital and are Jessie Stegeman, Anna Stegeman, August Stegeman, sister and brother, and Lawrence Goodhart, brother of the driver of the stricken bus.

Probe Crossing Disaster

VAN WERT, O., January 11.—Evidence gathered in connection with the crossing disaster here yesterday, which cost the lives of four children and serious injury to eight others, will be presented to the Van Wert county grand jury when it reconvenes Friday, according to an announcement by prosecuting Attorney Carl M. Dunifon of Van Wert county. Dunifon today declared his investigation disclosed that the Pennsylvania freight train which crashed into a school bus was running through a curve for not carrying a headlight. Two of the seriously injured, August Stegeman, 13, and his sister, Jessie, 15, are expected to die, physicians said. J. D. Trimble, of Port Wayne, Ind., engineer on the locomotive which struck the bus, was charged with manslaughter in an affidavit filed by Ray L. Inler, father of two of the dead children. He furnished $5,000 bond in justice court and was allowed to return to his home.

15 Husbands, All Yanks

MRS. HELEN DREXLER

By NEA Service
GENEVA, ILL.—Not unlike the sailor who has a "sweetheart in every port" is the case of Mrs. Helen Ferguson Drexler.

Except that, according to a federal warrant, her "sweethearts" are husbands, 15 of them in all and every one a sailor or a soldier.

Mrs. Drexler, 21, is held in the county jail, under $2,000 bail, here while government officials are attempting to find out the why and wherefore of the continuous wedding in which they say she played the part of the wife.

Federal authorities maintain she became a "repeating bride" in order to draw war risk allowances for herself and a three-year-old child by her first marriage, in 1917, to Wilfred Taylor, a soldier.

To which Mrs. Drexler replies: "I loved them all. I didn't want their money. I was simply crazy about uniforms. I believe I loved Number 10 best. He hoisted me around. Gosh, I don't remember how many I married."

Unless all the husbands are rounded up and brought into court it may be necessary to free the "repeating bride." "And they'll have some job doing that," says she. "There is nothing harder to find than a soldier-husband A. W. O. L."

HEAVY SNOW FORECAST FOR MANY STATES

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—Heavy snow was predicted by the weather bureau today for practically the entire northeastern section of the United States, with the probability that the middle Atlantic territory also would be blanketed by tomorrow.

The wide reaching snow fall will be accompanied on the Atlantic coast, north of the Virginia capes, by gales of marked intensity, the forecast said, and a general warning to shipping was issued.

New England, New York, Pennsylvania, West Virginia and the Great Lake region and upper Ohio valley, the bureau indicated may expect conditions which will make studding popular among the juveniles.

"Considerably cold weather will overspread the region east of the Mississippi river within the next 36 hours," said the official forecaster.

ARMY OFFICERS CALLED TO CHECK TESTIMONY OF EX-SERVICE MEN

WASHINGTON, D. C., January 11.—(By the Associated Press.)—Army officers were called in today by the senate committee investigating charges that American soldiers had been hanged in France to check up on testimony of former service men, as to the alleged illegal executions.

Dr. H. E. Ross, of Danville, Ill., a battalion surgeon, with the sixteenth infantry, declared he heard of no hangings at Gondrecourt and that he never heard of any hangings in that locality. Robert Harrison, of Wilmington, North Carolina, had testified that he saw a Mexican hanged near Gondrecourt and that the body was taken to a hospital with rope marks around the neck.

Senator Watson presented to the committee an affidavit by J. A. McDonald, of Youngstown, Ohio, setting forth that he was at the Bassano prison in France when Private Fitzgerald was shot and killed "by a Sergeant Cooper or Kappa, of New Castle, Pa." McDonald said he was ready to testify in support of recent testimony to that effect by Edward Duer, of San Francisco.

COLUMBUS, O., January 11.—(By the Associated Press.)—E. V. Arbuckle Scheduled For Trial

SAN FRANCISCO, CAL., Jan. 11.—Ruscoe Arbuckle's second trial on a charge of manslaughter in connection with the death of Miss Virginia Rappe, took the top place on the calendar today before Superior Judge Harold Lenderbach. The jury in the first case disagreed.

Attorneys for both the defense and prosecution have expressed belief that this trial, which is to be conducted on a grand jury indictment, would be longer than the first one. It is expected to develop into a legal battle between Matthew Brady, district attorney of San Francisco county, and Gavin McNab, chief of the Arbuckle defense staff.

A venire of sixty has been called and several days are expected to pass before selection of a jury has been completed.

Miss Rappe died, it is alleged, as a result of injuries inflicted by Arbuckle at a drinking party staged last Labor Day, September 5th, in his rooms at the Hotel St. Francis here.

Griffith Has Difficult Task Ahead

DUBLIN, Jan. 11.—(By the Associated Press.)—Arthur Griffith, new president of the dail eireann, and his cabinet assumed today the places to which they were elected yesterday. It was recognized that careful work was necessary if pitfalls were to be avoided during the first month which must elapse before final ratification of the treaty creating the Irish free state was possible.

On February 14, the dail will reconvene to ratify formally the document which it approved as the representative body of the Irish republic.

The new dail leaders claimed to have assumed their tasks backed by the most zealous will of the majority of Ireland's population. The reported decision of Great Britain to liberate all political prisoners would, it was believed, strengthen their hands against any extremist efforts on this score and if the British troops and other signs of "foreign domination" were rapidly removed their troubles would be further lightened.

Hurries Back To Defend His Position

CANNES, FRANCE, January 11.—(By the Associated Press.)—Premier Briand will leave Cannes for Paris at 2:00 o'clock this afternoon. It was announced this morning, not only to inform the French cabinet as to the status of the negotiations here, but, it is understood, to meet and answer criticisms of certain groups of the opposition and to demand that the chamber of deputies support or reject him.

The principal difference between the premier and the opposition it is learned, are with regard to the new terms of payment by Germany adopted by the council's experts, but not yet ratified by the full council. France under these terms would receive less than under previous arrangements, but a greater proportion in kind.

PARIS, January 11.—(By the Associated Press.)—A cabinet council presided over by President Millerand met at the Elysee palace today and again discussed the negotiations at Cannes, concerning which Premier Briand had telegraphed a request for instructions and advice. The meeting lasted three hours and the results of the deliberations were transmitted to the premier at Cannes.

The official communique issued after the meeting was silent concerning the nature of the questions discussed, but it is understood that the proposed Anglo-French defensive agreement was the main object under consideration.

A Havas Agency dispatch from Cannes says that Premier Briand is coming to Paris this afternoon to inform the cabinet of the state of the negotiations at Cannes, and that he will return to Cannes Friday.

CANNES, FRANCE, January 11.—(By the Associated Press.)—While the allied supreme council met today to consider Germany's war reparations, much of the interest of the delegates was centered in Paris, where the French cabinet was to hold a special session to consider France's position as the result of the decisions reached here.

It is understood that the considerable adverse criticism of Premier Briand has developed in his cabinet in connection with the proposed Anglo-French defensive alliance.

BERLIN, Jan. 11.—(By the Associated Press.)—Munich theater-goers are still touched on the subject of America, it appears from an incident just reported here. The X-ray Berliner Zeitung tells how an audience in the Bavarian capital fairly raised the roof in objecting to the American background and American names being used in a new theatrical production. They booed and hissed and stamped and immediately the performance was stopped.

In his annual address, Myers Y. Cooper, of Cincinnati, reported that approximately 2,816,000 persons attended fairs in the state last year. He declared that fairs must be primarily educational and urged that steps be taken to eliminate all questionable concessions. He predicted that 1922 will be the best year in the history of Ohio fairs. The annual banquet will be held tonight. Tomorrow the association will meet with the state board of agriculture.

ARMED WITH RIOT GUNS, COUNTY OFFICIALS STAND GUARD TO BALK WELL PLANNED JAIL DELIVERY

What gave promise of being one of the most sensational and carefully planned jail deliveries attempted at the county jail in many years was aipped in the bud late Tuesday afternoon through the vigilance of Deputy Sheriff Frank Bennett. But for his cleverness in scenting the delivery it probably would have been pulled off at the scheduled hour, 7:30 last night.

Two bars of the jail overlooking Seventh street had almost been saved in two and two in a window on the second floor were sawed and ready to be kicked out by the prisoners.

According to the officials, the prisoners, who were in on the jail delivery, were to have made their get-away in an automobile. They learned shortly after the plans of the prisoners had been frustrated that the ring-leaders were Lorin Merston, youthful bandit, who assaulted Sheriff Ricker, Edward Holbrook, automobile thief, Curtis M. Withrow, who killed Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Nichols, "Tim" Collins, accused of selling moonshine, Fred Burhoe, confederate of Withrow and who is charged with burglary and receiving stolen goods, and Burns Adkins, charged with failure to provide.

Threats of Death
Before the hour of delivery was reached Holbrook and Merston, the officials say, told every prisoner in the jail that if they revealed their plans they would be killed. "And we mean business," Merston said as he lined up the prisoners and talked to them.

What went wrong with their plans has not been learned, but at 7:30 last night the prisoners were singing and having a good time and apparently no effort was being made to effect a wholesale delivery.

They were lined up and thoroughly searched before they were allowed to go back in their cells, but no saw was found.

Despite the fact that he still is bedfast from injuries suffered when he was attacked by Lorin Merston,

Sheriff Ricker directed the work to prevent the escape of any of the prisoners. Had they attempted to go through with their plans they would have met a warm reception as armed men were in evidence on all sides and the prisoners could not have gotten very far. In fact the jail was surrounded inside and outside.

Go The Limit
Sheriff Ricker issued orders to the men to go to the extreme to protect their lives, realizing as he does that the most of his prisoners are desperate criminals and would not pass up any life-taking chance to evade the clutches of the law. Had the delivery gone through it is believed that only one or two prisoners would have tried to squeeze through the barred windows until the others realized the futility of their plans and would have remained peacefully in their cells. The prisoners are locked up in their individual cells at 8 o'clock and so the delivery was planned for 7:30.

Sheriff Ricker said last night that it would be impossible for any one to smuggle a saw from the outside and believe it was handed to one of the prisoners from the inside. An investigation along this line has been started to ascertain where the saw came from. Every article taken to the prisoners is carefully examined by the deputy sheriffs and they say the saw could not be smuggled through there. The theory is advanced that possibly one of the prisoners had it for sometime and was waiting for some prisoner to make use of it. Merston was his man and according to the officials he did most of the sawing. He was assisted by Holbrook, Withrow, Adkins and Burhoe and they took their turn sawing on the iron bars. It is believed that the saw was hauled out yesterday afternoon about one o'clock. By four o'clock Deputy Sheriffs Bennett and Ricker were next to the delivery and then it was that plans were hurriedly laid to frustrate it.

Armed Men On Hand
Taking no chances Sheriff Ricker reinforced his quota of men and the jail and contiguous territory was well surrounded by armed men last night and they remained there until after 9 o'clock. One man was seen to make four trips around the jail and he may be asked to explain his mission in that section of the city and at the hour the delivery was to have been staged.

Sheriff Ricker is confident that the men have some confederates on the outside and he expects to thoroughly investigate the affairs as soon as he is able. He is confident that if the plans of the prisoners had not become known yesterday they would have escaped as two bars of one up and one down stairs window were sawed and ready to be kicked out. "We had some desperate criminals in jail and you can say for me that every precaution possible will be taken to see that not one gets away and is brought to justice," the sheriff said last night.

Officials are looking into the theory that possibly the outside men are friends of Merston and may be pals from Columbus.

Detective Baker Files His Account; Other Expenditures

The annual statement of the expense fund of Prosecuting Attorney George W. Sheppard, filed in the office of the county auditor Wednesday shows expenditures of $1,285.50 for the year 1921.

Of the total amount, nearly one-half was paid to Fred J. Baker for services performed as detective in the investigation of numerous murders and other crimes, according to the report. The amount paid Baker was $649.65, and represents a salary of $5 a day and expenses. The vouchers filed in connection with the report discloses that Baker was paid $50 for "looking after gambling" at street fairs in this city, and $55.00 for 11 days spent in investigating the shooting of James Glenn and Henry Cantrill, and $40 for eight days spent investigating the murder of Louise Doyle and John W. Newman.

The report further discloses that Frank W. Ricker drew $236.00 and Oscar R. Moore the sum of $101.00 for services rendered the prosecuting attorney in connection with violations of the prohibition laws. Frank Harris was also paid $25.00 for looking up liquor violations.

This money is paid from a special allowance to the prosecuting attorney to provide for expenses which may be incurred by him in the performance of his official duties and in the furtherance of justice. The law provides that the additional allowance may be an amount equal to one-half the prosecutor's salary, which in this instance is approximately $1700.

CLAIM LOCAL PRISONERS TOOK PART IN ROBBERY OF BANK AT COLUMBUS

There is no longer any doubt, according to Detectives L. H. Einspender, Elmer Pratt and Andy Leslie about Loris Mershon, a prisoner in the Scioto county jail, who assaulted Sheriff Mickey several days ago, being implicated in the Scioto bank robbery in Columbus on December 21 last, when Cashier William H. Todd was held up at the point of a gun and $7,500 was stolen.

According to the detectives, the reason Mr. Todd did not recognize Mershon when here last Friday, is that Mershon did not leave his machine and had it in readiness at the curb when the bank robbery was staged. Ernest Fanning, colored, who was arrested here with Mershon, took no part in the robbery, it was stated in Columbus Tuesday.

Mershon's confederates in the sensational robbery, the officials say was a man known as "Slim" Allen and others of Columbus, and they have been missing from their usual haunts.

It is also learned that two women were with the men when the robbery was pulled off and they are known, Columbus police say, by the names of "Betty" and "Two Fingers Helen."

Detectives Einspender and Pratt stated last night that they have positive information that Allen was with Fanning and Mershon on their trip South, but that he did not divide the "bank money" until they threatened to kill him (Allen) if he didn't. Then it is said that Allen gave up only part of the money and then left Mershon and Fanning somewhere in the South. While Fanning insists that he does not know anything about the robbery, he admitted last night that he was told that Allen and the others staged it and made a clean getaway.

At Columbus Detectives Einspender says he was told by the police that they are sure that Mershon was in on the robbery and that the bank bandits escaped in his machine.

The Columbus police have a complete description of Allen, and the two women, and arrest may be made at any time. The officials have learned that Mershon's statement that Allen has his Chalmers Speedster is correct. Mershon was paying for it and still owes $175 on it, according to receipts he has shown since being arrested.

Much was added to the original program for the musical when it was announced that Miss Lollie Anderson would sing several numbers. Miss Anderson is well known in this her home city, and is soloist of rare talent, and who possesses a voice of wonderful beauty.

The organ accompaniment will be played by Mrs. J. M. Stockham, while Miss Doris C. Moore will play the piano music. The "Holy City" is given under the auspices of the Ladies' Musical, and under the direction of Foster Krake.

MOTHER!

Open Child's Bowels with
"California Fig Syrup"

Hurry mother! Even a sick child loves the "fruity" taste of "California Fig Syrup" and it never fails to open the bowels. A constipated child may prevent a sick child tomorrow. If constipated, bilious, feverish, fretful, has cold, colic, or if stomach is sour, tongue coated, breath bad, remember a good cleansing of the little bowels is often all that is necessary.

Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.—Advertisement.

F. H. PRICE SELLS INTEREST TO PARTNER

A business deal of unusual interest became known Tuesday night when announcement was made of a change of ownership in the Portsmouth Daily Times. C. B. Kennard, who owned the paper, has sold his interest to F. H. Price, who is a partner in the paper.

The stockholders of the company last night elected Mr. Kennard as president and Mr. F. H. Price as secretary-treasurer. The company has prospered and flourished from the time of its inception. Now it is regarded as one of the leading daily concerns in the state, doing an extensive business in Ohio, Kentucky and West Virginia.

Mr. Price has not decided on his future plans except that for the present he and Mrs. Price will enjoy a well deserved rest. They intend to leave soon for an extended stay in California. They will go via New York and make the journey from there by steamer going through the Panama canal. Mr. Price is a real live wire and alone in business but was to the forefront in any movement for the advancement of the poorless, and it is with considerable regret that the city will lose such a good citizen.

Mr. Price is interested in several enterprises in Columbus, his former home, and it is probable that after enjoying an extended vacation he and Mrs. Price will locate in that city, and that Mr. Price will become actively associated with one of the concerns in which he now holds stock.

Mr. Kennard will continue the daily business along the same lines it has been conducted and he will have full charge of the buying as well as the force of traveling salesmen. He is a progressive business man and no doubt the concern will continue to prosper under his management.

DUGAN MAY PLAY SHORTSTOP

BOSTON, Jan. 11. Joe Dugan, the former Philadelphia third baseman, probably will be transferred to shortstop for next season's play. Manager Hugh Duffy said today. With Eddie Foster to cover third base, Boston is predicted at that corner, but the gap left by the recent transfer of Everett Scott to New York is the one which Duffy said he expected to have Dugan fill. Dugan played at short.

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Dolly Wise—In wearing a dress suit or tuxedo what kind of shoes should be worn? I only have the brown oxfords or low cuts. Please tell me. If I should have black. Also should a solid white shirt be worn and what kind of tie? Please answer at once.
ANXIOUS TO KNOW.

If you will doll up as though you were laid out waiting for someone to put a fly in your hand, you will be dressed just right for a formal affair. Black patent leather pumps are preferable, but black shoes of oxfords may be worn. Don't make a fancy suit by wearing tan or brown shoes with your evening clothes. If you are going to a formal dinner, wear a white shirt and tie. If to a dinner a black tie.

Dear Miss Dolly—Is it true that the women up to date doctors have discovered two more senses in the twenty century man? Dolly, is it the sense that are advancing in their profession and finding new things in the human body, or is the rising generation equipped with the things that were lacking in the past generation?

A BACK NUMBER.

Yes, it is true that we have two more senses added to the five already known, according to Dr. Glen S. Moore of Chicago. He claims that the two new senses are "muscle sense" by means of which man automatically coordinates brain and muscle, and the "static sense" in the semi-circular canals of the internal ear. All seven senses working together maintain the body's perfect equilibrium according to the doctor's theory.

Dear Miss Wise—When did the United States enter the war with Germany and when were the first troops sent?

WANT TO KNOW.

The United States entered the war on April 6, 1917 and the first American troops landed in France on June 26th of the same year.

Dear Dolly—Kindly explain what compound and what are hyphenated words? Please give a sample of a SUBSCRIBER.

Thin Folks

If you are weak, thin and nervous, Dr. Lee and Strech supply you with "Dynamite." It is guaranteed to increase weight and strength and restore energy, vision and nerve force. Advertisement.

Compound words are words of two or more distinct words used as one word in form and meaning, as child-like, output, upset, etc. Hyphenated words are compound words connected with a hyphen as clear-headed, five-beaved, short-lived, etc.

Miss Dolly Wise—Owing to a recent illness I had to get my hair cut. Now I would like to have a transformation wig or switch made. Do you or any of your readers know where I could get some made?

INQUIRE at the local beauty shops or department stores. If they can't do it for you, they will tell you where to send your hair.

Dear Miss Wise—Will you kindly put in print the correct pronunciation of Arkansas, for the benefit of W. V. C. and M. G. C. R. P. C. I have also here pronounced Arkansas.

Adventures Of The Twins

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

A large cooking stove burst through the ground at their feet.

As before, the little apple-tree elevator stopped when it had gone a certain distance up into the sky over the treetops, and the three passengers got out.

"Here we are," said Binkins. "This is Emptyland, kiddies. Not much to see today because we fairies cleaned it all out yesterday, but I thought that you'd like to come anyway. This is where all the things blow to, when there is a big tornado down on the earth. You often hear how things are blown away and never heard of again, don't you? Well this is the place they come to, sort of a storage house to keep them in until we fairies can return them to their owners."

"It doesn't look like a house," said Nick looking round. "It looks more like the country in my fairytale book where the giant lived, at the top of Jack's beanstalk."

"So it is," said Binkins. "It isn't a house at all. I should have said 'store-place' or 'store-land.' My mistake! But goodness me, what's that? Where's that great roaring coming from?" He had to shout it, for the sound had suddenly become so loud that it drowned every other noise.

Binkins put his ear to the ground. "Yes, sir, that's it," he shouted. "Old Whizzy Tornado is loose down on the earth again and he's making things fly. Now watch out, children, they'll be here soon," he warned, holding up a hand.

"Who?" shouted Nick.

"The things," answered the fairy-man. "There, didn't I tell you?" Suddenly there was a bang and a crash, and a large cooking stove burst through the ground at their feet, his lid, and less flying in forty directions. He gave a great puff of black smoke, and then settled himself on the ground as though he'd never moved again.

CONFESSIONS OF A MOVIE STAR

CHAPTER LXXIV—A CUTBACK TO THE PAST

"I'd like to speak with your Mother dear, May?"

"Push the button next, the door for the nurse. I think Mother dear is not at home. Otherwise, she would have welcomed you."

She had just returned, she was with us in a moment. She addressed our visitor as "Jimmy," then remembered and called him "Dick."

"Make it 'Jimmy' hereafter, Mrs. Scott," said he. "It's to explain to you why I became 'Dick' and remained 'Dick' that I asked you to see me."

"Dick's in a circle," said Mother dear, taking her place on the couch at my side and motioning Jimmy to push his chair in front of us.

"I'll have to go back to those great days in Harpersville, Mrs. Scott. You remember, May, the night we stalked that wretch Snidell?"

"You think I could forget?"

What I forgot was my Mother dear's

These Letters Recommending Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will Interest You

For Your Own Good Please Read Them

Youngstown, Ohio—"Last fall I began to feel mean and my back hurt me and I could hardly do my little bit of housework. I was played out when I would just sweep one room and would have to rest. I would have to put a cushion behind me when I would sit down and at night I could not sleep unless I had something under my back. I had awful cramps every night and was just nearly all right. Finally my husband said to me one day, 'Why don't you try Lydia E. Pinkham's medicine?' and I said, 'I am willing to take anything if I could get well again.' So I took one bottle and a second one and felt better and was just nearly all right. I have just finished my eighth bottle and I cannot express to you how I feel, the way I would like to. If you can use this letter you are welcome to it and if any woman does not believe what I have written to be true, she can write to me and I will describe my condition to her as I have to you."

Mrs. EMMA HEASLER, 111 S. Jackson St., Youngstown, Ohio.

One day I saw your advertisement in the daily paper and began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once. I have improved ever since taking the third bottle and I find it is the best medicine I have ever taken."

Benefited by First Bottle
"I was completely run down and not able to do my housework. I just dragged myself around and did not have energy to get up when once I sat down. I read advertisements of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in your paper 'The Indiana Daily Times,' and learned all about it. I received results from the very first bottle and now I am doing all my own work, even washing and ironing, and I never felt better in my life. I tell all my friends it is due to you."

—Mrs. ELIZABETH REINHOLD, 403 N. Pine St., Indianapolis, Indiana.

You should pay heed to the experiences of these women. They know how they felt before taking the Vegetable Compound, and afterwards, too. Their words are true.

SOUNDS WARNING TO ALL MECHANICS

C. E. Ferguson

"I hereby warn and advise all brother mechanics who have stomach trouble, to take Peppen. If they wish to be relieved of such ailments as indigestion and stuffy, bloated feeling after eating, Peppen helped me in short order," says C. E. Ferguson, mechanic for the L. & N. Railway, Louisville, Ky., who resides at 1535 Story avenue, that city.

Peppen, about which Mr. Ferguson speaks, is a new tonic that is highly recommended by the prominent local druggist whose name appears at the bottom of this article. Peppen is especially prepared to relieve stomach trouble and the symptoms that stomach trouble causes.

When the food is not properly digested, the blood becomes impure. Then follow sick headaches, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, nervousness and many other disturbances.

When you feel bad after eating, you should take Peppen. You will be saved the annoyance of further trouble, to say nothing of the dangerous conditions that may develop later. Peppen is made from roots and barks. It is easy to take and easy to obtain. Its cost is small.

In further reference to Mr. Ferguson's case, he says:

"It was necessary for me to be very cautious of what I ate. For instance, if I ate cabbage, beans, turnips or foods of that sort, I was sure to be in misery for hours. Following a spell of indigestion I would have headaches.

"The results I obtained from Peppen were wonderful. My indigestion is wholly relieved. I have a good appetite and can eat what I desire. I have gained ten pounds since I first started taking Peppen. I do not hesitate to recommend this medicine to other sufferers."

Peppen may be obtained in Portsmouth at the Fisher and Streich Pharmacy, and at other first class pharmacies.

STANDING motionless in the dreadful gloom of blindness, insensible to the growing cold, Bill made himself look his situation in the face.

Finally his thought seized upon an idea so fantastic, seemingly impossible of achievement, that at first he could not give it credence.

His snowshoe tracks probably were not yet obliterated under the wind-blown snow. Could he feel his way along back to his cabin?

The miles were many and long, but he wouldn't have to creep on hands and knees all the way. He groped about at the side of the cabin for his snowshoes.

He found them in a minute, then walked straight as he could fifty feet out from the door. Once more he went on hands and knees, groping in the icy snow. He started to make a great circle.

Fifteen feet farther he felt a break in the even surface. The snow had been so soft and his shoes had sunk so deep that the powdered flakes of the wind had blown during the night had only half filled his tracks. He started to follow them down.

He would walk ahead five paces, then drop down and grope again for the tracks. Sometimes he found them at once, often he had to go on his hands and knees and start to circle. Then, finding the trail, he would unshrink on for five steps more.

Oh, the way was cruel! He could not see to avoid the stinging lash of the spruce needles, the cruel blows of the branches. Already the attempt began to partake of a quality of night-mare.

He could not judge distance or time. Already it seemed to him that he had been upon the journey endless hours. He didn't know how far he had come. The only thing he had felt was always to count his terrible steps, and count five more.

On and on, through the long hours. But the fight was almost done. Exhaustion and hunger, but cold most of all, were swiftly breaking him down.

The time came, at last when he could no longer get upon his feet. And now, like Titmouse who could not die, he crawled along the snowshoe trail on his hands and knees.

"I can't go on," he told himself. "Not always his muscles made one movement more."

Suddenly he missed the trail. His hand groped in vain over the white crust, and he started to creep forward again.

But slowly the conviction grew upon him that he was crawling in a small circle, the very circle he had just made. Some way he had missed the snowshoe trail.

Slowly he sank down in the snow.

WHEN the southeast wind struck the house cabin, Virginia's first thought was for Bill.

Harold's first thought was also for Bill. He knew what the wind could do to a snow crust. His eyes gleamed with high anticipation, curiously intertwined with the remembrance of the dark cavern he had entered yesterday, the gravel laden with gold.

"I only wish I hadn't let him go," the girl's tone was heavy and dull. "But we had to have supplies."

"We could have come out on that grizzly mount."

"The afternoon that followed was endlessly long and lonely. Her heart sank at every complaint of the wind, and she dreaded the fall of the shadows."

All through the hours of early night she slept only at intervals.

She awakened before dawn, and the icy, winter stars were peering through the cabin windows.

Shivering, she slipped quickly into her clothes. Then she pulled a candle and put on her snowshoes. She mustn't let the little sense of snow to the men's cabin.

She knocked on Harold's door.

"Who's there?" a sleepy voice answered.

"It's I—Virginia. I'm up and dressed. Did Bill come back?"

"Bill? No—and what on earth are you up this early for? Forget about Bill and go back to bed."

"Listen, Harold," she pleaded, "Don't tell me to go back to bed. I feel I know something's happened to him. And—and I want you to go out and look for him."

Harold had no desire to rescue Bill. Besides he was angry and bitterly jealous at her concern for him.

"You do, oh—you'd like to send me out on a bitter night like this on a fool's errand such as that. Where is there a cabin along the way—you'd only kill me without helping him."

"You won't go, then?"

"Don't be foolish, Virginia. Angry words arose in her throat, but she suppressed them."

She went swiftly to her cabin, put on her warmest clothing, and, as Bill had showed her, rolled a compact pack for her back.

She took a little package of food—nourishing chocolate and dried meat—the wisest food that had been her salvation the night of the river experience, and a stub of a candle for fire-building.

Then, with never a backward look, she started away, down the dim, wind-blown, snowshoe trail.

XX

NOW that the light was done, Bill lay quite calm and peaceful in the drifts. The pain of the cold and the wreck of exhausted muscles were quite gone.

He was free to face with the flaming truth, and he knew his fate.

On the trail that he had made on the journey, and which he had tried so vainly to follow back, Virginia came unsmiling toward him.

It was a long, hard, nerve-racking trek.

Finally where the trail entered the spruce thicket, her keen eyes made out a curious, black shadow against the snow.

The heart in her breast turned to ice, her blood seemed to go still in her veins. She recognized this figure now. It was Bill, lying still in the frozen drifts.

She fairly raced toward him. Now she knelt beside him, and with no knowledge of effort turned him over and lifted his head and shoulders into her arms.

His eyes were closed, his face expressionless, his arms dropped limply to his side.

She sobbed softly, and her tears lay on his face.

"Bill, oh, Bill, won't you wake up and speak to me?" she cried. She pleaded softly, but he didn't seem to hear.

"Come back to me Bill—I need you!" she told him. "It's so cold—and I'm afraid. Oh, please open your eyes—"

She kissed him over and over—

XXI

BILL had not been lying long inert in the snow.

And now he thought he was in the midst of some wonderful, glorious dream.

"Virginia," he whispered, "Is it you, Virginia—come to me?"

Then, so clearly that he could no longer retain the delusion of dream, he heard his answer.

"Yes—and I've come to save you."

She gave him liquor. He felt strength returning to his muscles. He tried to open his eyes.

"I'm blind—" he told her.

"No matter, I'll save you. Can you eat?"

The hand nodded.

She thrust a fragment of sweet chocolate into his mouth, permitting it to melt.

"You'd better get to your feet as soon as you can—and try to get the blood flowing right again. We're only a few miles from the cabin—if you'll just fight we can make it in."

He shook his head. "I can't—I can't go any farther. I can't see the way."

Public Is Amazed At Continued Enormous Demand for Tanlac

People All Over America Want To Know What Is Behind The Phenomenal Success of This Preparation That Makes it the World's Greatest Tonic.

Day after day the question is being asked all over the United States and Canada: What is the reason for the phenomenal success of Tanlac? Why do we hear so much about it? Why do Tanlac sales keep increasing every year when other medicines seem to have a short-lived popularity and are then forgotten?

The answer is simple enough. The test of time has proven to people all over the American continent that Tanlac always produces most gratifying results and that the remarkable relief it brings seems to be more permanent than ever before believed possible.

Tens of thousands of persons, everywhere, who took it when it was first introduced six years ago, report that they are still enjoying excellent health and millions of American homes are now using Tanlac as the family medicine after first trying it out thoroughly and proclaim it the World's Greatest Tonic.

Thousands of men and women of all ages and in all walks of life afflicted with stomach, liver and kidney disorders, some of them of long standing, as well as thousands of weak, thin, nervous men and women apparently on the verge of collapse, have testified publicly that they have been fully restored to their normal health, strength and weight by its use.

Still others, who seemed fairly well, yet who suffered with indigestion, headaches, shortness of breath, dizzy spells, sour, gassy stomach, coated tongue, fullness of breath, constipation, bad complexion, loss of appetite, sleeplessness at night and terribly dejected, depressed feelings, state that they have been entirely relieved of these distressing symptoms and restored to health and happiness by taking Tanlac.

Tanlac has never been advertised as a cure-all or that it would perform unheard-of wonders. The advertising has been clean, straightforward and conservative. Actual facts and figures have been stated and stated in a true, business-like way that has commanded the confidence of all in the conservative claims set forth.

The enormous demand for Tanlac is due to merit alone, for no amount of advertising would continue to sell any article that does not possess real merit. Unless full value underlies the article advertised, the advertising will ultimately fail of its own weight. "You can fool some of the people some of the time, but you can't fool all of the people all of the time."

Tanlac has been well advertised, it is true, but such a large and rapidly growing demand could not be brought about by advertising alone. It is what the people themselves say that counts. One bottle of Tanlac is sold in a neighborhood through advertising, but ten more are sold in that same community as a result of the sale of that first bottle and that is why Tanlac has succeeded. People are always willing to talk about their ailments, but they are more than glad to tell others of the medicine that helped them. It is something they could not keep to themselves if they tried, for the impulse to sympathize with your fellow-man and want to help him is one of the strongest, as well as one of the biggest, things in human nature.

That is the reason why the people of every section of the United States and Canada have become to speak of Tanlac as the World's Greatest Tonic. And that is the reason why the demand for this remarkable medicine has grown to such proportions that it is almost impossible to keep dealers supplied.

Tanlac is sold in Portsmouth by the Fisher & Steich Pharmacy and the leading druggists everywhere.—Advertisement.

Baskets and bowls of white narcissus and ferns added to the attractiveness of the rooms. At the conclusion of the playing, a delicious two course lunch was served.

Prizes for top scores were awarded to Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Seidl, Mrs. Charles D. Scudder and Mr. Harry E. Taylor were presented with the consolation prizes.

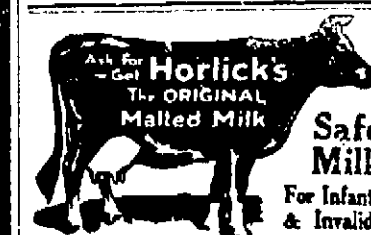

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Anderson for the evening were: Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Peckles, Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Scudder, Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Taylor, Dr. and Mrs. Howard Williamson, Mr. and Mrs. Heron M. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. William Sprague, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton M. Seidl, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Marting, Mrs. Harry Revare, and Mr. E. H. Bangham.

A great amount of interest is being evinced in the program to be offered by the Portsmouth Community chorus this evening, when they appear in concert at the Higelow M. E. church. Some of the best singers in the city will participate in the chorus and solo work, and several of the most beautiful choruses from Gault's "Holy City" are to be rendered.

Miss Lottie Anderson, Cleveland, a soprano singer of note, and likewise a former well known Portsmouth resident will lead in some of the principal singing and also render a group of songs. Other well known soloists will be Miss Ruth Fitch, Mrs. E. H. Bailey and Mr. Fred B. Lorey. Miss Anderson and Mrs. Bailey will also render a beautiful duet. Miss Doris Moore will be the piano accompanist, and Mrs. J. M. Stockham has kindly consented to be the local council Knights of Columbus will direct the singing. The concert, which will commence at 8:15, following the weekly prayer service, promises to be one of the most delightful ever rendered in the city, and the general public is invited. The admission will be free, but a silver offering will be taken up to defray the expenses.

THEY POSITIVELY CONTAIN NO DRUGS

We want to prove to you the difference between taking Yeast Vitamine Tablets mixed with drugs (in which the quantity of Vitamines is necessarily small) and Genuine Yeast Vitamine Tablets, which are entirely pure and unadulterated in which you naturally get a much larger quantity of Vitamines. For this purpose and also to prove to you the value of our Genuine Yeast Vitamine Tablets, we have arranged to give you a regular $1.00 package absolutely free as explained herein. Before taking Yeast Vitamine Tablets we want you to weigh yourself, and note especially the thinness of your face, and the color of your complexion. Then measure yourself around the chest and the waist. Then take one package of these tablets, following directions given below and watch the results.

Investigations of the Medical Research Committee (composed of eminent physicians and scientists) would seem to show that no matter what quantity of food may be taken, if such food is deficient in Vitamines, you gradually lose flesh and become thin and weakened while a much smaller quantity of food, rich in Vitamines, quickly produces strength and energy, provided your blood contains a sufficient quantity of oxygenated organic iron to enable you to assimilate your food properly. Without organic iron both food and Vitamines are absolutely useless, as your body cannot change inert, lifeless food into living cells and tissue unless you have plenty of organic iron in your blood. Blood examinations by physicians all over the country have shown that an enormous number of people are deficient in hemoglobin or oxygenated organic iron content in the blood stream, and this is often the real underlying cause of a thin, emaciated, weak and run-down condition and it is where Vitamines are necessary, organic iron is also necessary. For centuries scientists tried in vain to produce organic iron. At last the problem was solved, so that you may now obtain pure organic iron from any drugstore under the name of "Nuxated Iron," which is ready for immediate absorption and assimilation by the blood the moment it enters the system.

If you merely wish to gain greater strength, energy, vigor and endurance, take Nuxated Iron only. DO NOT TAKE VITAMINES UNLESS YOU WISH YOUR WEIGHT INCREASED to what a person should normally weigh. We do not claim, however, that Vitamines will put flesh on everybody. Some people are naturally thin, and will probably remain so in spite of Vitamines and everything else.

Those whose meals consist generally of meat, soup, white bread, meats of various kinds, fish, potatoes, limited fruits and vegetables, pies and cakes are likely to suffer from under-nourishment due to a deficiency of both Vitamines and Organic Iron, no matter how much they eat, and in such cases both Vitamines and Nuxated Iron should be taken.

Chamblin, In Good Health, Says That He Will Not Die In Chair

With considerable color in his cheeks and apparently in perfect health, Roy Chamblin, condemned to die in the electric chair on February 24 next, greeted Detectives Einspigner and Platt very cordially when they called on him in the annex at the Ohio penitentiary yesterday.

"Why, Roy, you look like a country school boy with that color in your cheeks," Einspigner said to the condemned man. "I never felt better in my life," Chamblin snapped back cheerfully. "I am reading the Bible every day, but I am not going to die over there," Chamblin said as he pointed to the death chamber, which is near the annex. "Something just tells me that I am not doomed to die in the chair and that is all there is to it," Roy said as he sat down to talk to the detectives.

"I hear from mother everyday and get the Portsmouth Times, West Union, Cincinnati and Columbus papers and I am not very lonesome," Roy continued. "I do not pay any attention to the calendar as I am not counting the days when I am to die. Why just the other night Fred Bland of Marietta, was relieved after he had been taken to the death chair and that is what is going to happen to me."

The officers say Chamblin told them that he has lost ten pounds in weight, but he does not show it. He refused to discuss the double crime committed here other than to say that he was sorry that he could have gotten away if he wished to.

"Why, I had time to leave so much earth behind me that they never would have caught me. You know I have been in 37 states and know how to get over ground."

"Is there anything about the double murder that you wish to clear up?"

"No," he has told everything and the real truth and my conscience is clear along this line."

Chamblin said he gets out in the air 30 minutes of every day and enjoys a brisk exercise in the sunlight.

Warden Thomas told the local officers that 12 prisoners were condemned to die, the largest number in the history of the state and two more were on the way.

TWO KILLED; ONE BADLY HURT IN C.&O.N. WRECK

Huge Fill Gives Way And Engine And 13 Cars Are Piled Up; Victims' Flesh Is Cooked; Traffic Is Tied Up

KILLED
John Gerald Callahan, 24, single, fireman, Russell, Ky., sealed to death in cab.
Harry Earl Caldwell, 28, married, 3 children, brakeman, Chinnville, Ky., died in hospital from burns.

BADLY INJURED
Lou Perry, married, engineer, Russell, Ky., injured through chest, shoulders and back.

J. G. Callahan, fireman, was killed. Harry Earl Caldwell, brakeman, so badly scalded he died later, and Lou Perry, engineer, was badly injured. When C. & O. N. freight train first was wrecked about two miles north of the Ohio river C. & O. N. bridge at Sciotoville at 6:45 this morning. Besides the engine and tender thirteen cars, four box-cars and 9 coal cars loaded, were piled up in one of the worst wrecks that has occurred on the C. & O. N. or C. & O. in recent years. Railroad workers and the curious who visited the wreck scene agree as a body on the cause of the wreck, the slipping of the side of the big fill which is about 100 feet high at the place where the wreck occurred.

Fireman Callahan was sealed to death when he was caught in the cab of his engine. His body was literally cooked. Engineer Perry attempted to jump but his clothing caught on some part of the engine and he was hurled through the air landing about 25 feet down the bank away from the wreckage. Brakeman Caldwell who was on the engine, was thrown to one side as it plunged over the bank but he was not far enough away to escape scalding steam from the boiler of the engine.

Caldwell died at Mercy hospital at 12:55, death being caused by burns all over his body and shock. He was never able to talk of the accident. His wife and three children were at the hospital.

Will Tie Up Traffic
The wreck will probably tie up traffic on the C. & O. N. branch for more than a week and it may take longer to clear away the wreckage. A big fill will have to be made and new track laid before the wrecking crew can get near the wreckage to pull pieces of cars and the badly damaged engine back to the track.

The track where the wreck occurred was considered the best piece on the C. & O. N. between Sciotoville and Waverly. The company has had considerable trouble with fills near Waverly and Fairview but the roadbed between Sciotoville and Minford was considered the best as it had not given any trouble.

The majority of the 13 cars wrecked were reduced to splinters or bent into shapes that will make them unfit for use. Only a couple of coal cars and one box car are fit for future use if they can be lifted from the side of the bank to the track. The overturned engine is half buried in the mud and at first it was thought that the fireman was caught under all the heavy wreckage but later it was found that his body was under the scalding water in the cab of the engine.

The scene of the wreck is on the Merwine farm which is at the eastern end of the narrow back of Sciotoville. The C. & O. N. bridge over the Little Scioto river strikes Merwine hill on the north and just the other side of the big cut in the hill is the big fill across the Merwine farm.

Farmers at the wreck scene this morning said they had never expected the fill to hold up as it was made of mud, sand and clinders which did not pack. The west side of the big fill gave away, letting the cars and engine slide down that side of the steep bank. The big slide did not stop until it reached the level land at the base and there it slid up a mass of mud and shale which appeared to be forced down by the engine and cars.

The slide of mud moved over a small concrete culvert which is about sixty feet under the track level. A telephone pole was snapped off to the base of the hill a distance of about 25 feet.

Dead Man's Watch Found

Gerald Callahan's watch stopped at exactly 7:17 this morning. It was picked up near the scene of the accident by Roy Gordley and was turned over to Coroner J. D. Hendrickson.

Left Big Gap In Track

Officials of the C. & O. N. stated today that it would require fully 50 car-loads of clinders to repair the fill near the accident. Cars are being shunted there and the fill will be made as rapidly as possible.

Almost Choked Last Night

The engine must have turned over just once for it lies buried with the top in the mud and the wheels in the air. The heavy steel monster is more than half buried on one side, the mud being up to the driving wheels. On one other side of the cab, the engineer's window is free from the mud, the front part of the engine being buried up to the driving wheels.

Engine Is Buried

The engine must have turned over just once for it lies buried with the top in the mud and the wheels in the air. The heavy steel monster is more than half buried on one side, the mud being up to the driving wheels. On one other side of the cab, the engineer's window is free from the mud, the front part of the engine being buried up to the driving wheels.

One whole box car, empty and with only its trucks missing, is on top of the tender. This empty car was probably the second one from the tender. A box car loaded with bricks was demolished. It was probably the first car behind the engine, the heavy load of brick causing the bottom part of the car to settle down on the side of the carved in bank or fill. One end of this car is fastened to the empty box car on top of the tender. Conductor Martin claims there were four box cars and that one was filled with crates. The box car filled with ties and another box car were reduced to splinters or buried so far in the mud that they can not be counted by a person examining the wreckage. Not a cross-tie is to be seen.

The fourth box car must have also been an empty. The other nine cars were loaded with coal. They are of the big steel type and only one or two of these were just hanging over the edge of the fill, the rear trucks being still on the main track. The car attached to this one is about half wrecked and is piled on top of the badly wrecked cars further down the fill. The other seven coal cars were demolished and were twisted into an indescribable mass.

It will take much labor to clear away the wreckage and probably no effort will be made to salvage the coal that had tumbled down the fill.

Wreck Trains On Hand

The wrecking crew from Russell arrived about ten o'clock and it was necessary to pull the remainder of the train to the Kentucky side so that the wreck could get near the wreckage. The first step taken by the wrecking crew was to lift the filled coal car partly on the main track to the side of the fill where it was overturned to make way for the track workers who will level off the fill and put down new track so that the wreck can work directly over the wreckage. The way the track is now wrecked, any number of wreckers and derricks would be of little use.

Trackmen expected to be busy the remainder of the day leveling off the fill so that a new track could be laid. It is estimated that it will take the engine's huge boiler and it cooked several weeks and maybe months to the flesh of the man who was caught; put the fill and roadbed back in good shape like a mouse in a pound for heavy traffic.

There are several small slips on the side of the fill but they have not anything holding the body and it is east side of the fill but they have not thought that a hole on the head end would be big enough to demand attention. No slides or slips of the fill had been noticed on the west or left hand side of the fill.

The conductor in charge of the wreckage, which was Will Martin of Chinnville, Ky., was in the engine and when Mr. Williams passed the wreckage he was on his way to the Ketter house. The doctors, Flanagan Thompson stopped west wreckage is a car length or two him and asked him what had happened behind the engine, several cars in one pile. Thompson went to a railroad telephone and notified the Russell headquarters of the wreck. The telegraph and telephone wires along the C. & O. N. were torn down and the lines were put out of commission for several hours, the big slide cutting down a pole and carrying it down the bank.

The slide moved over a concrete culvert at the base of the fill and filled up the culvert blocking up a small stream. The many gallons of water in the tender ran out and swelled the stream to four times its size, the water backing up on the west side of the fill.

Engineer Perry at the hospital told Dr. Hutchens that he had just finished looking at his watch and noted that it was 6:45. Perry says he remarked to his fireman that they were getting along fine and were only three minutes late this morning.

All three men, Callahan, Caldwell and Perry were experienced railroaders and were counted on as reliable and valued employees.

John Gerald Callahan, who was 24 years of age, was the son of J. J. and Anna Elizabeth Callahan, life-long residents of Russell. In addition to his parents he leaves two brothers, C. R. Callahan of Russell and W. G. Callahan of Bowling Green, Ky., and three sisters—Mrs. Mabel Lake, Mrs. Edith Osborne and Miss Juliette at home. Mrs. Callahan is seriously ill with rheumatism and a sister is a patient in Marting hospital in Fronton.

Mr. Callahan had been employed on the C. & O. since 1917 and was a trusted employee. He left Russell at 1:15 this morning on the first section of 71. He was a member of the Iron-bridge of Elks and the Shrine Temple in Ashland.

Callahan was an exemplary young man and the news of his tragic death was learned of in Russell with genuine sorrow. His body was shipped to Russell today and was in charge of his brother, C. R. Callahan, who came to the Lynn morgue to claim it.

Callahan was also said to have been a dental college student and had completed two years of a course. He was working this year to earn money in order to finish his course, according to his brother.

Engineer Perry is married and has several children. He has married children by his first wife. He is well known at Russell.

Harry Earl Caldwell, brakeman was only 28 years of age. He is survived by his widow and three children, Harry Jr., June and Ralph, still a baby.

At the hospital the men were attended by Dr. J. W. Hutchens and Dr. J. T. McChesney, C. & O. N. and C. & O. N. physicians and surgeons.

Victims Lose Their Watches

When Engineer Louis K. Perry and Brakeman C. Caldwell jumped from their engine this morning their watches were lost and an effort to locate them has failed. W. H. Hanshaw, father-in-law of Perry, was here this morning and took charge of his effects. He says Perry was 36 years old and is married. He has three children, Kenneth, Elizabeth and June. Perry has long been employed on the C. & O. and is well known in Russell.

AUTO CLUB MEMBERS ENJOY DELIGHTFUL BANQUET; MEMBERS DISCUSS PLANS TO WIDEN THEIR ACTIVITIES

A bigger and better club this year and one that will advance with the coming of each new year hereafter, was the slogan adopted at the annual meeting and banquet held by the Portsmouth Automobile Club in the Masonic hall Tuesday night. The spirit of progress and optimism pervaded the enjoyable session and the addresses were inspirational in nature. In that it gave to the members a view of big things that have been accomplished in other cities, and offered many practical plans to push on in Portsmouth.

About ninety members of the club gathered around the banquet tables at six o'clock to enjoy the treat that was served by the ladies of the Masonic order. The supper was catered by the ladies of the Masonic order. The supper was catered by the ladies of the Masonic order. The supper was catered by the ladies of the Masonic order.

Mr. Pepper's address dealt largely with local conditions in telling what the local automobile club has done since its organization. In the beginning he praised the county commissioners and the city officials for the fine condition of the county roads, and the cooperation which the club has received. He said that these officials had done all in their power to aid the club in its work. He then told briefly the benefits derived by motorists from membership in the club.

The Automobile Club is the biggest advertising asset a city possesses. Tourists who pass through a community judge it and form their impressions from the kind of people they come in contact with, and these people are usually the members of the club. He finished with a strong plea for united effort and plenty of work for every member. In addition to an aggressive membership campaign in 1922.

Archbishop J. H. Dodson who is one of the vice presidents of the A. A. A. and the Ohio State Automobile Association and president of the club in his home town, Zanesville, was sent here with Tom Van Hart of Columbus to take the place of C. C. Jones, Secretary of the Ohio Association. Rev. Dodson made a wonderful address on the things that an automobile club will do for the motorist and the city. His talk was brightened all through with humorous incidents and stories that helped to carry home his story in a forceful manner. He will be welcomed by the members whenever it is possible for him to speak at a meeting of the club in the future.

Rev. Dodson's slogan is "Boost." He said, "The talk is always of a bigger town, but my idea is to make the community better, that's why I belong to automobile clubs, not one but many." He urged the local club to work for more members, and to set the aim high. He continued, "We must sell the other fellow on the idea of the club; fill him with the knowledge of what it can do for him and then the Portsmouth club can be made one of the finest in this part of the state. Other cities, larger and smaller have done it, why not Portsmouth? There must be enthusiasm, you must have the spirit. Be a booster for your city is just what you make it. One of the best ways to put the city on the map is to have a good automobile club. When you once get a good one, it becomes a necessity and everyone is back of it." In discussing the things that the Automobile Association has done he said, "The automobile industry is the most healthy and of any industry in the country. It ranks third in the amount of production and valuation. If it were

"Pape's Cold Compound" is Quickest Relief Known

Don't stay stuffed-up. Quit blowing and snuffling. A dose of "Pape's Cold Compound" taken every two hours until all three doses are taken usually breaks up a cold and ends all grippes misery.

The first dose opens clogged-up nostrils and air passages of head; stops nose running; relieves headache, dullness, feverishness, sneezing.

"Pape's Cold Compound" is the quickest, safest relief known and costs only a few cents at drug stores. It acts without assistance. Tastes nice. Contains no quinine. Inset on Pape's advertisement.

not for the A. A. A. you would be paying $30 to $40 a year license instead of from $8 to $22. They say that they are taking a pleasure vehicle, when such has long since ceased to be the case. The automobile today is a most important business vehicle. This excessive tax must be stopped. All those pious legislators can see in an automobile is a means of increased taxation.

He talked of the laxity of enforcing the laws of suspended sentences and fines, especially in the cases where machines were involved, and depressing a little he said, "I do not think that President Harding set a good example for the judges of the country when he freed the man who fought against his country with his sword and his pen. Yet the President freed him while the American Legion and the thousands of veterans of a great war protested, and while the Socialists and the I. W. W. and the Bolsheviks assented." Closing, "Sure, these are poor times for business, but this earth is not all mountains, hills, neither is business, there are valleys in both, and we are in the valley now, but going upward. Talk good times, be optimistic, and those good times will soon be here."

At the close of Archbishop Dodson's address, the results of the election for directors were announced, showing that the following four men were elected to serve two years: W. A. Pepper, William Zollman, Gilbert Monroe and E. H. Goodman; while the following will serve for one year: F. A. Marting, Edward Gims, John Souwer and Alan N. Jordan.

Tom Van Hart, sales manager for the Columbus Automobile Club instead of giving a flowery address to the members, spent his time in telling the members how he told of the ways in which the Columbus club had progressed and offered suggestions for the same good work in this city. Mr. Van Hart calls himself a membership salesman because he has made a specialty of that one line. He said that selling memberships is just like selling any commodity. He gave a number of rules by which a club may help to build up its membership. Some of them follow: Have a good organization; Stress efficiency; The secret of success in selling memberships is the same as the secret of selling everything—production. Convince prospective members of the club's good qualities.

Rev. Dodson then offered a silver cup to the member of the local club who secures the most new members during the year providing a membership campaign is started here.

He also proposed a resolution that another conference shall be called in the near future, having as its aim, one identical with the aim of the present Disarmament Conference. This resolution was unanimously adopted, and will be sent to Washington.

Mayor William N. Gableman and Safety Director St. Straus made short talks explaining how the city had tried in the past and how it would cooperate in the future with the Portsmouth Automobile Club.

A meeting of the directors will be held in the near future for the purpose of organization and a meeting of all the members and prospective members of the club will be planned for an early date.

MASONIC LEAGUE SMOKER TO BE HELD THURSDAY

What is expected to be one of the most enjoyable meetings in the history of the Masonic Bowling League will be the smoker to be held at the Temple, Thursday evening, starting promptly at 7:30 o'clock. The affair will take place in the banquet hall, and every member of the league is most cordially invited to be present at the free doings. There will not only be an abundance of cigars, but plenty of sandwiches and punch, while fellowship will reign supreme. With Edward V. Leach as chairman of the affair, the bowlers can rest assured it will be a smoker well worth while.

The smoker will be an informal affair—bestwise there will be no set program. However, the principal topic to be discussed will be "The Good of the League" and every person present is expected to take part in the discussion. President H. H. Higgins will preside and a genuine good time is expected. The affair marks the close of the first half of the season, and the fact the Spartans won the pennant for the first half, it is most fitting that Captain Leach be chairman of the committee. The Spartans have gotten a good jump for the second half honors, for they took three in a row from the Okies last evening.

Bureau Meets Next Tuesday

The annual meeting of the Scioto County Farm Bureau will be held next Tuesday, January 17, at the United Brethren church with sessions at ten o'clock in the morning and one o'clock in the afternoon.

County Farm Agent, Walter F. Gahn, received word last night that M. D. Lincoln, executive secretary of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, who was scheduled to speak here would be unable to attend.

At the morning session the time will be given over to remarks by the president, election of officers, financial report by the secretary and presentation of the amendment to the constitution and by-laws which would allow women to serve on the board of directors. Following this will be the annual report of County Agent Gahn.

The officers to be elected are President, Vice President and Secretary-Treasurer. The financial report to be made by the secretary will show where the money received from memberships goes to.

At noon the members and guests will enjoy a luncheon. A large attendance of ladies is especially desired and members are urged to bring their wives, daughters or sweethearts.

Some well informed speaker will be brought here to deliver the afternoon address.

HARD PROBLEMS

Men find, as they look back, that it was in solving the HARD Problems that they developed the ability to handle the BIG JOB that came their way LATER. If you haven't learned the habit of SAVING, you will not be able to handle ANY KIND of a job when the OPPORTUNITY presents itself.

The Elbinger 8% Preferred Stock

Carries a Valuable Conversion Privilege

Here is the security of a growing, time-tested corporation manufacturing a staple product. Dividends payable quarterly—redeemable at 110 per share—one share preferred may be converted into two shares of common.

Earnings for the past six years, 1915 to 1920 inclusive, averaged in excess of 125% per year on the common shares then outstanding.

THE Elbinger Shoe Manufacturing Company is offering the purchasers of their preferred stock the privilege of converting one share of the preferred into two shares of common any time prior to January, 1928. Besides netting the investor 8% per annum, he has the option of converting his preferred stock into common. With the continued success and further growth of this company the common stock earnings should be such as to make this conversion privilege very attractive.

Up to the present time this has been a close corporation—all of the common stock being held by the executives. But with the refinancing on a larger scale it was decided to offer this common stock to the public in units of one share preferred and one share common, price, $130 per unit.

The Elbinger Company are manufacturers of medium priced shoes for women—a product for which there is and always has been, a large, constant demand. Among their customers are numbered some of the country's largest mail order houses and retail shoe organizations. The majority of orders are for such quantities as will permit of substantial profits. There are many liberal and attractive provisions drawn up in this preferred issue. Various safeguards protect the investor's capital. For a detailed description of the company, its property and this issue, SEND for our special illustrated booklet.

THE MARKETS

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—Features of special interest were looking at the dull and uncertain opening of today's stock market. Bethlehem Steel was the only prominent issue to register more than a fractional change, gaining one point. Most other industrials were lower, as were also oils and rails. The market steadied within the first half hour on renewed buying of Mexican Petroleum, preliminary foreign exchange quotations were lower, especially French and Italian rates.

The recovery of Mexican Petroleum was followed by advances of 1 to 4 points in Standard Oil of N. J., Texas Company and Houston Oil. Shorts were covered in equipments, copper, motors, food specialties and chain saw issues. American Locomotive, Railway Steel Springs, Nudolaker, American Smelting and Refining, Corn Products and May Department Stores rose 1 to 3 points. Crucible and Pullman were among the few industrials to lag. Erie continued to strengthen, but the railway list as a whole was sluggish. Government bonds were active and strong. Call money opened at 2 per cent. Trading in stocks today was overshadowed by further heavy buying of liberty and victory issues, these almost without exception mounting to highest prices for a year or more. Sales of stock approximated 500,000 shares. The closing was strong. Liberty issues featured the expansive bond market the 3 1/2's showing especial strength.

CHICAGO WHEAT

CHICAGO, Jan. 11.—Wheat prices developed strength in the early trading today owing largely to absence of confirmation of yesterday's report that French banks were in trouble. Besides bulls contended that the outlook for the new crop in the southwest remained doubtful. Selling pressure was light. Opening prices, which ranged from unchanged figures to 1c higher, with May 1.40 to 1.00 1/2, and July 98 1/2 to 98 1/2, were followed by material further gains.

Wheat closed strong, 1 1/2c to 2 1/2c net higher, with May 1.10 1/2 to 1.10 1/2 and July 99 1/2 to 1.00.

Commission house buying gave firmness to corn and oats. After opening, 1 1/2c to 1 1/2c higher, May 52 1/2 to 53 1/2, the corn market scored slight general gains. Oats started 1 1/2c to 1 1/2c, May 38 to 38 1/2, and then hardened a little more.

Provisions rose with hogs and grain. Prices closed strong, 1 1/2c to 3 1/2c net higher, May 53 1/2 to 53 1/2 and 54 1/2.

New Confection Is Fine

Peck Not To Boss The Senators

WASHINGTON, D. C., January 11.—(By the Associated Press.)—Clark Griffith, president of the Washington American League Club, stated positively today that unless there was an unexpected change in his plans, Roger Peckinpaugh, who becomes a member of the Washington club, through the three-cornered deal arranged yesterday between Washington, Boston and Philadelphia, would not be made manager of the Nationals.

The managercy of the Nationals is vacant owing to the resignation of George McBride, who acted as manager last season, and it had generally been the belief that should President Griffith acquire Peckinpaugh the former New York American captain would step into the vacancy. This belief, Mr. Griffith said today, was without basis.

President Griffith said he was not prepared to make an announcement with respect to the managercy and it was intimated that several former major league stars were under consideration.

IN EDDIE MOORE ONE NIG BLAIR WILL MEET A FIGHTER WITH A WICKED PUNCH

Huntington Lad Is In Fine Trim For A Gruelling Battle

Relative to the career of Eddie Moore, who fights Nig Blair here next Monday night, the Huntington Herald-Dispatch this morning said:

Say, Bo, who is Eddie Moore? How often have you heard this question within the past few days? When Moore sent "Kid" Layman, the demon scamp, to the cleaners, and started on his cruise along the river of Fame, the boxing bugs along Caniflowery Alley started buzzing about the slender lad with the iron fists.

Eddie Moore, himself, not a picture, dropped into the sports studio last night for a social call. Eddie makes a fine impression. When he smiles, and he is smiling most all the time, it is an honest-to-goodness smile, the kind that carries a "kick." This is the sort of a k. o. that Moore makes around outside of the ropes and rosin, and is the last person in the world that one would take to be a ring gladiator.

Smooth faced, fair complexioned and as bashful as a youth walking into a barber shop for his first shave, Eddie Moore is more like a school boy than a pusher of the leather.

Moore is a "native son." He was born in Huntington and has lived here since. At the present time he resides with his parents at 125 East Fourth avenue. He is only seventeen years old and received an abbreviated education at Lincoln school. Due to some optical trouble Eddie was advised to give up school work.

Moore is a plasterer, both inside and out of the square circle. If you don't believe this statement just ask any of the numerous boxers who have stopped one of Eddie's blows with their whiskers. The young little 135-pounder took up wielding the trowel under the direction of his dad, who is also a great lover of the mitt game.

Big Deal Is Closed

NEW YORK, Jan. 11—Roger Peckinpah, former Yankee captain, who will assume the management of the Washington club this season, will be the fourth active player in charge of a team in the big leagues. The others who will assume a dual role in the 1922 campaign are Tris Speaker, of the Cleveland Indians, Ty Cobb of the Detroit Tigers, and Bill Killefer, of the Chicago Cubs.

Peckinpah was acquired by Washington yesterday in a three-cornered deal, which sent Joe Dugan the Athletics' star third baseman and Frank O'Rourke, a Washington infielder, to the Red Sox, and Ed Miller, outfielder, and Jose Acosta, a Cuban pitcher, both of the Washington club, to the Philadelphia Americans.

While none of the three interested club owners would admit that any money was involved in the deal, baseball writers generally agreed that Connie Mack, of the Athletics received a substantial sum for letting Dugan go in exchange for Peckinpah. It was recalled that only a few months ago the New York club had offered $50,000 for Dugan, which was refused. The Athletics then insisted upon $100,000 as the purchase price.

Today's Sport Angle

What is the real value of spring training to the ball player?

Back four or five years ago some of the major league managers believed the spring training trips were being overdone.

The claim was made that the players, because of the climate of the south, became too far advanced in their condition and suffered a severe reaction when they hit the rigors of the northern climate.

Branch Rickey, of the St. Louis Cardinals, was one of the managers who believed it was just as well to train at home. He decided St. Louis was good enough for him. Ordinarily the climate in St. Louis during March is pretty good for baseball.

Connie Mack likewise thought home training would suffice for his athletes. He announced the Philadelphia team would do all of its preliminary work at Shibe park.

But played unkindly with Messrs. Rickey and Mack. The year they decided to try out the home training idea was one of the toughest springs in years. Most of the training was done around the radiators in the dressing room playing poker or pinocle.

Poor weather made it impossible for either the Athletics or Cardinals to hit their form. As a result both teams got away badly in the spring. Evidently that one experience killed any thoughts held by other managers as to the advisability of home training.

The following year both Rickey and Mack went to the other extreme. The Cardinals worked out at Brownsville, Tex., close to the Mexican border. The Mackmen trained at Lake Charles, La., not far from the Gulf of Mexico.

This year Mack has decided to go far into Texas, having selected Eagle Pass, while the Cardinals will go back to Orange, Texas.

Therefore it would seem that the home training idea was all wrong. There is also a chance to overdo the sunny south portion of it.

I was in Miami two years ago when the Cincinnati Reds trained there. During the entire stay of the Reds in Miami the weather was perfect, just like June or July in the north.

When the Reds left Miami the players were in better shape than any team I had ever seen in the spring. The club was really too far advanced. The team also remained south until the last moment, only to run into a bad spring.

The best policy, it would seem, is to gradually work a team north, after it has reached a stage that satisfies the manager.

How George Burns Views His New Berth

If you were a star ball player, how would you like to be transferred from a team generally picked to win a big league pennant to a club that didn't figure to have much of a chance?

That is the status of George Burns, who for 10 years has been one of the most valuable ball players with the New York Giants.

McGraw sent Burns and considerable money to Cincinnati to get Helme Grah. He also included Catcher Gonzales in the deal.

Last season Burns had one of his best years. His work in the world series with the Yankees was one of the outstanding features of the series.

Most players would stir up a lot of fuss if they were in the same position as George Burns. They would threaten to retire from baseball, insist on a share of the sale price or make an exorbitant salary demand.

Burns, however, is not that type of player. He has a very even disposition. He has accepted the trade to Cincinnati, and in the same philosophical manner he has always accepted a bad decision by the umpire, as a part of the business.

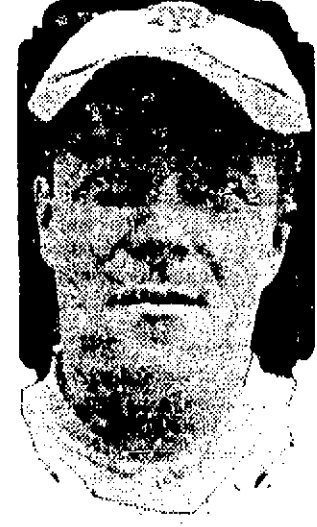

"I will work as hard for Pat Moran as I did for the Giants," Burns is quoted as saying when interviewed on the trade.

"New York has been good to me, and I leave it as a ball player with plenty of love for the town, and the kindly manner in which the fans have always treated me.

"I have seen some great players break into the game and go the road that I have to travel.

"It would be an untruth for me to say that I was tickled to death with the trade. The Giants should win the National league pennant this year and that means a lot of extra money.

"There is no use kicking—it is all a part of the game."

Syndicate Is After Club

CLEVELAND, O., Jan. 11—A syndicate of Clevelanders are said to be in the market for the Boston American league baseball club. Sam Deutscher, prominent local sportsman, left here last night for New York to confer with President Harry Frazee, of the Red Sox, Matt J. Hinkley, well known referee and fight promoter, who made an effort to purchase the club several years ago, also is said to be one of the syndicate.

Sporting Splinters

The latest plans for the new Penn stadium at Philadelphia calls for a seating capacity of 80,000 people. However, for the present it is believed that 50,000 seats will be sufficient. It is the intention to immediately erect that number.

Howley Signs

DETROIT, Mich., Jan. 11—Don Howley, coach of the Detroit Tigers, has signed his contract for the coming season. It was announced at club headquarters today. It will be Howley's third year with the locals.

13 Exhibition Games

BOSTON, Jan. 11—A series of 13 exhibition games against the Washington Americans has been arranged for the spring training trip of the Boston Nationals. Manager Fred Mitchell announced today. The six opening games of the series will alternate between St. Petersburg, Fla., training quarters of the Braves, and Tampa, the spring condition grounds of the Senators. The teams will leave for the North on April 2.

May Close Deal

NEW YORK, Jan. 11—Harry Frazee said today that the big three-cornered deal between Boston, New York and Philadelphia may be completed tomorrow. Connie Mack is en route from the South to meet other officials.

To Show Skill

The Selects will journey to Peabody to play an exhibition game in Peabody Saturday night, January 21st. The management at Peabody wired the locals for a game, not because they expected to win, but the fans up there want to get a look at the crack team from this city and Baseman's five will be a big drawing card there.

Special Match

Saturday night, January 14th, the Crystal Palace Five, headed by Byron Prediger will roll a team composed of Selby bowlers on the Selby alleys. Prediger's five will include: Smith, Bauer, Dunham, Aldridge and himself. The five which will represent the streamers will be chosen from the following leading bowlers of the plant: Bruno, Faght, Eferth, Reinhard, Marple, Haken, Sodaro and Davidson. The match should be a good one for both teams will have five good men in their lineups. The public is invited to this match which will begin at 7:30.

Stiff Practice

The P. H. S. basketball squad went through a fast practice last night at the high school gym in preparation for the two games of the week end. The team working hard, realizing that if they are to make a good showing some real work must be gotten in. The local five meets the strong Ash land team at the Kentucky city Friday night and the McIntire squad here Saturday.

Thursday: Cleaners vs. Underwoods.
Friday: N. and W. vs. Standard Supply.
Saturday: Seventy Six vs. Tins at 1:30; Strollers vs. Burroughs at 4:30 p. m.

All games played, as usual, at Parish House, unless otherwise stated.

Units off to the Seventy Six, former cellar diggers, and now pace setters for the Buckeye League.

The Seventy Six are the only team in the Buckeye League to keep their 1,000 percentage which they maintained by taking all three from the N. and W. last night, at the Moose hall. The games were whirlwinds of games, on the smaller floor, both teams keeping the ball off the floor in a wonderful manner. The Seventy Six had the edge, passing the ball up to the net nicely, especially Peel and Willace, who, as captain, is playing a 50 percent better game than he was before. George Moore had his serve down pat, scoring every time and making one run of ten. Williams played a magnificent game for the N. and W. and Gerding showed great class, often fairly scoping the ball off the floor.

Seventy Six: Ray Willace captain, George Moore, Crumler, Smallwood, Lewis Peel.

N. and W.: Williams captain, Gerding, Deaver, Gerkin, McCurdy, Oakes.

The Burroughs and Underwoods, each with 1,000 percent, fought a pretty battle, last night, at the Parish House, to see who would lead the league. Through the brilliant field work of Korns, together with the ball hitting propensities of Hyland, who was right there with the zone when a chafie came, the Burroughs annexed the first game, after a hot struggle 21-17. Staten and Millard got to working together in their old way, and the Burroughs were fairly snowed under, in the second game 8-21. It looked as if the third game should be a clash for the Underwoods, but Korns made a serve of eight, and the Burroughs got the game 21-6.

So the struggle for first place ended by both losing first place, and both dropping their 1,000 percent.

Burroughs: C. E. Korns captain, Hyland, Egnon, Corfield, Edmund, and Wells.

Underwoods: E. C. Dixon captain, Webb, Staten, Gahbert, Gier, Candill, Millard.

Friday: Selby Leaders vs. Selby Vets at Whiteville hall; Selby Culls vs. High School Faculty at high school temple C. M. Howland.
Saturday: Phi Psi vs. Christian Vets at 4 p. m.

What were really the best three games, and the most exciting, played in the Peerless League this half, were staged last night between the High School Faculty and the Selby Leaders. The Faculty had the first game clinched 20-5, when the Leaders brought it up to 20-20. It was a toss up whose game it was, but the Faculty won the loss, and the game. The next was 21-19, also in their favor. The third was as hot as the first, going to 20-17 before being decided in the Faculty's favor.

High School Faculty: Prof. Eccles captain, Prof. Appel, McCombs, and Wheeler.

Selby Leaders: Stewart, Laod, Peters, McEleg.

READING THE ADS

TWO Portsmouth women were discussing newspaper advertisements. "When I turn to the advertising columns in the Times," said Mrs. A., "I read them just as carefully as I would a description of some place where, by diligent searching, I might find a sum of money—the cold cash. Furthermore, I am not guided by what I read at the moment. If I see something offered at a price which I know means money-saving, I go to that store with the purpose of buying it and putting it away until my present stock of it is worn out or exhausted. A good bargain is a good bargain any time. I buy ahead when the saving warrants it."

Mrs. B. confessed that she was not so forward-looking. "My reading of the ads," she said, "is for the purpose of finding where I can get with the greatest economy what I need right now. Somehow I have a feeling that a merchant is always trying to sell me something whether I want it or not. I always make up my mind to buy only what I need and not to yield to the blandishments of the bulletins about bargains. I read and shop for the day only."

In effect, Mrs. B. regarded advertisements as temptations. Mrs. A. looked upon them as opportunities. Of the two, Mrs. A. is the more efficient housekeeper. Her use of the ads is the same that the manager of any big business makes of his knowledge and information concerning conditions that may or will affect his undertakings in the future. She makes her money go further than Mrs. B. possibly can.

Mrs. A. advanced another shrewd observation: "The merchant who appeals oftenest to my desire to shop for the future, is the man who runs the best store and offers the best goods. He is availing himself of two markets—today's and the future's. If he has sense enough to do that, he has ability to run his store on the best lines. I favor the merchant who advertises oftenest, with the greatest regularity and in the greatest detail. From my reading of advertisements I know enough about them to understand that the store which puts out sloppy ads or which advertises at irregular intervals in a hit-or-miss way, is the store most apt to give me hit-or-miss goods."

OBSCURANTISM

DARWIN was all wrong. Professor Bateson says so. You don't know of Professor Bateson? Why, how ignorant! Well, you are not by yourself. Some folks may have heard of him, and maybe he has the right to knock out poor old Darwin.

At any rate, when he disposes of Darwin, what does he put in the place of the Darwinian theory of the genesis of species? Nothing. He merely says that the only thing he knows, or any other scientist knows about it all is that none of them knows anything. He calls that empty theory of his "obscurantism," which means that everything is dark to him.

Honest confession is said to be good for the soul and this scientist, even if he doesn't admit he has a soul, must have derived some good from his confession of ignorance. It always is a good sign when a man suddenly wakes up and understands how little he really knows. It furnishes a pretty good foundation for wisdom.

"MADE IN U. S. A."

THE Canadian customs ruling that all merchandise shipped to the dominion by American manufacturers shall be marked "Made in U. S. A." went into effect December 31. The regulations permit a rubber stamp to be used in marking certain kinds of goods but require a permanent imprint for the more durable merchandise. Shipments not bearing the marking will be held up at points of entry until the deficiency has been remedied, and a penalty added to the duty on goods thus delayed.

The ruling will cause complaint. Some of the American manufacturers doing business with Canada are pretty sure to forget the new regulation during the early days of the enforcement, and to become indignant when penalized. But there is no excuse for resenting it. Canada is perfectly within her rights, and it probably will be a good thing for her people that American-made goods shall be so marked. If they find that they are buying from us and paying duty on goods that they could just as well produce themselves, they will be stimulated into undertaking the production. Of course that will not be pleasant for the American manufacturers; but being reminded frequently by the label on goods how close are the trade relations between the United States and Canada, the people of the latter country will appreciate the more how much the two countries have in common.

The label "Made in U. S. A." can be made an effective advertisement for our industries. Good arguments can be advanced in favor of putting it not only on merchandise shipped to Canada but on merchandise shipped anywhere.

New York-Day-By-Day

BY O. O. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK, January 11.—There is a sudden gloom pervading Chinatown during the morning hours. Brownish-yellow figures, arms crossed in flapping sleeves, shuffle along close to buildings—a habit bred from long war fear. Many are just back from the fantasies of the "black smoke" into the material slough.

The shops are lifeless and the chop-suey caravansaries ghostly in their eerie hush. Timid little Chinese children play silently and with pathetic aimlessness along the gutters—standing wide-eyed and shrinking at the Occidental face.

Little frame houses along Pell and Dwyer with their faded green shutters have the blinds down until mid-afternoon. In those shambles live white women who have cast their unhappy lot with the bees of China to make jumpy their god.

There is the rattle of a vehicle in the narrow, crooked streets and the only light is the purple haze that glows dimly at the entrance of the joss house—a joss house incidentally for rap wagon tourists.

Now and then there is the sound of muffled gesticulation and strange exclamations sweeping up from the underground passages that honeycomb this bit of Chinatown, running off the hip of Chatham Square. Perhaps a "chop head" with a feverish morning "yew."

In front of the Cafe Nacional, which used to be Nigger Mike Salter's place where the now opulent, Irving Berlin once pounded the ivories for pitched nickels, a figure sprawled on the doorstep asleep. It was "Old Horse and Wagon," the only Chinese ever decorated for bravery in Gotham.

Around by the Port Arthur restaurant a lone and fiercely mustachioed Italian listened to the morning second of a shrill street band. The elevated trains, spun high in the clouds, shrieked and the hooves of drag horses against the street added to the incessant roar. Park Row filled with its usual lunch hour crowds, and Chinatown slept sluggishly on, symbolic of its native land.

It was afternoon tea time in one of those smart restaurants. A young man with patent leather hair joined a group of young men and women. He shot a wicked cuff and was just bulging with merry quips. It was evident that he was not welcome, but they were trying to tolerate him. He began to rub nervously, however, that was plain.

He turned to one sophisticated lady and inquired: "Swadie, may I smoke?" "Smoke," she said with withering scorn, "why I don't care if you burn."

O, yes—almost forgot—the brash young man when handed the bill of fare inquired of the garçon: "Waiter, how are the menus today?"

Speaking of menus in another cafe one of those big hearted Orlans who rub their hands and beam when the waiter approaches told the charming young lady opposite that when she got through looking over the hot groceries on the bill of fare he was going to suggest something he knew would please her taste. "What you want to start with?" he said "is some of those horse doves."

In a stroll over West Forty-second street, covering four blocks three fat-tired men approached with "Cap, can I speak to you a minute?" In each case an inquiry was made as to why a resort had been made to street begging. The answers varied. The first had lost his job, the second was a war veteran and the third because he needed money to buy his wife medicine. One longs for the old fashioned beggar who states frankly that he wants money to buy a shot of hooch.

"When As A Lad"

When as a lad at break of day
I watched the fishers sail away,
My thoughts, like flocking birds would follow

Across the curving sky's blue hollow,
And on and on—
Into the very heart of dawn.

For long I searched the world! Ah me!
I searched the sky, I searched the sea,
With much useless grief and rueing,
Those winged thoughts of mine pursuing—

So dear were they,
So lovely and so far away!

I seek them still and always will
Until my lizard heart is still,
And I am free to follow, follow,
Across the curving sky's blue hollow.

These thoughts too fleet
For any save the soul's swift feet!

—Isabel E. Mackay.

A Full House

A comedian with a large family recently announced to his comrades at the supper table that he had that morning been presented with "an addition."

"Congratulations, of course," said a fellow member, half-heartedly; "but hadn't you nine before?"

"What of that?" returned the proud father cheerily. "As an actor, I like to see a full house."

Look And Listen

I do not fear a siren
With a mass of midnight hair,
With wicked drooping eyelids
And a blasé worldly air;
But, oh, I cross my fingers
And I breathe a little prayer
When I meet blond-haired cuties
With a blue-eyed baby stare!
